

YVETTE'S BULLSH*T

'We had a referendum. The thing I feel more concerned about than any possible scenario... is the idea of becoming a country that no longer respects democratic values and I think that matters. We've had a referendum. We didn't go into that referendum... saying 'Look I want you to vote 'remain' but it doesn't matter how you are going to vote - I'm going to ignore you...' It was a referendum that was fought in good faith and nobody said at anytime. 'But d' you know what, I'm just not going to respect the result afterwards!' That is the kind of thing that Donald Trump says. And he did say it, before the presidential election... and we all were appalled and horrified... But I don't see how I could go out there and say 'It is so important to stand up for democratic votes but there is this democratic vote that we just had, that I never said I wasn't going to respect and I am not going to respect it now.'

Queen Mary's Mile End Institute. Jan 2017.

Since saying that we should not have another referendum Yvette Cooper MP has voted for another referendum THREE times. And despite the bullsh*t about 'respecting' the vote for leave, her 'Cooper Bill' blocked our departure from the EU on 29th March.

Many Labour figures campaigned for the EU referendum which was held in 2016. All Labour MPs voted for the referendum in 2015. They participated in the referendum. They lost the referendum. They promised to enact the result. But since 2017 they've ignored the result. They want your vote now even though they ignore your vote when it suits them.

WE SUGGEST THAT YOU IGNORE THEM
